

Technotrash Can™

Easy, accountable way for organizations to securely dispose of electronic waste

In the next five years, individuals and organizations in the U.S. will generate a technology waste stream that includes:

- 500 million obsolete PCs
- 750 million used cell phones
- 1.5 billion empty inkjet cartridges
- 10+ billion old disks and CDs
- And lots of things we cannot even begin to count

Recycling your obsolete technology – anything from a CD to a PC – is now easy and secure. Do not spend valuable time sorting through all your different technotrash, finding a responsible place for each type of item, and protecting your proprietary information so it is not at risk of theft. You can now ignore the temptation of throwing your technotrash in landfill and feel good about doing the right thing. GreenDisk has the solution developed specifically to make recycling convenient for you and your organization ... the Technotrash Can. Available throughout the U.S.

What is a Technotrash Can?

The GreenDisk Technotrash Can is a collection box specially made for easy disposal of this new waste stream. It is designed to easily fit into your office while conforming to USPS standards for easy shipping. The Technotrash Can comes in two sizes: (1) the Standard which allows up to 35 lbs and (2) the Tall which allows up to 70 lbs. of mixed electronic waste. Both boxes use just one square foot of your floor space.

What is technotrash? Technotrash is all of those various spent supplies and obsolete accessories associated with the technology that we all now have to deal with on a daily basis including:

- CDs, diskettes, audio and video tapes
- Old cell phones, pagers, and PDAs
- Inkjet, laser printer and fax cartridges
- Rechargeable batteries and much more

GreenDisk collects and consolidates technotrash, securely destroys all intellectual property, recycles the materials and reports back to you.

The GreenDisk advantage. The GreenDisk Technotrash Can provides you with:

- Time savings. You don't have to go looking for responsible ways to dispose of each type of technotrash. We make it easy and take it all!
- Secure destruction and full accountability. All information is destroyed and the materials are recycled - with a fully documented audit.
- Social responsibility. GreenDisk reuses first and recycles what is left. We also partner with a network of nonprofit workshops providing employment for people with disabilities.

The process is easy for you. Order your GreenDisk Technotrash Cans online. Use them in one office or distribute them all over the country ... it works the same both ways. Once the box is filled, the returner notifies GreenDisk online and receive a postage-paid shipping label by email. The Can is then picked up and delivered to GreenDisk for secure processing and recycling. All information is securely destroyed and the material is consolidated and shipped to the appropriate certified recycler. Finally, you receive your certified audit certificate.

This doesn't fit your needs? Check online for other offerings or call for direct pickup of larger volumes.
